

POPE PRESCRIBES RETURN TO FAITH OF LOVE AND HOPE

Work and Prayer Urged As Cure for Evils Of Times.

ROME, Dec. 25.—Five evils afflict present day society, Pope Benedict said in response to the greetings of Cardinal Vautelli, head of the College of Cardinals.

They are: Indiscipline, hatred among brothers, inordinate craving for pleasures and enjoyment, refusal to work, and loss of faith in God.

The reply of His Holiness dwelt on social reconstruction, as the Cardinal in his message had praised the Pope's efforts in that direction.

The Cardinal's greetings are all the more welcome, the reply said, as they come at a time of grave social unrest and calamities. The hardships of the great war are still afflicting society, and the mission of the papacy never was greater. Especially grave is the task of restoring order and pacifying various groups.

"The war is not over if men are still fighting among themselves," said the message. "Moral damages are greater than the material."

"The nations and peoples will vainly endeavor to reconstruct if they forget what is written in the Holy Book, that reconstruction is impossible without God's co-operation," said the message.

"It is the mission and duty of the Pope to remind society of this warning."

A return to the gospel is the only effective remedy for existing conditions, it was added. The work-shop of Nazareth should teach all to love work. Only the gospel can lead to true reform. The Pope said that with society suffering so much from the effects of war, he would devote all his efforts to a return to the principles of the gospel.

GERMAN FARMS MAKING POTASH

756,000 Tons Last Season, Against 557,000 Last Pre- War Year.

BERLIN, Dec. 25.—The German farmer has passed the peak of his difficulties in securing fertilizer to restore his impoverished acres, so far as the potash ingredient is concerned, though the problem of providing nitrates and phosphates for farm needs remains to be solved. His supply of potash for the season just ended was even in excess of peace time consumption—756,000 tons against 557,000 tons in the last pre-war year—and the output for the coming year is dependent only on the adequate supply of coal for the German potash mines.

The supply of nitrates, even though the factories manufacturing nitrates from the atmospheric nitrogen are freed from the necessity of securing their output chiefly to the manufacture of war explosives, was still below the pre-war standard, only 158,000 of the 210,000 tons, considered essential in the days when Germany was dependent on imports of saltpetre from Chile having been supplied to the farmers for the 1920 crop year. The nitrate industry hopes to be in a position to turn out approximately 26,000 tons of nitrogenous fertilizer during the coming year by enlargement and improvement of existing plants, but it remains to be seen how far these expectations will be realized. A maximum output of 100,000 tons seems nearer the mark.

Shortage Chief Problem.

The shortage of phosphates, for which Germany is almost entirely dependent, except for limited amounts of phosphoric slack from its furnaces, upon imports of phosphate rock from the United States and other sources, remains the acute problem for German agriculture. It is purely a financial problem, ample supplies of phosphate for the superphosphate factories being available to finance the imports, but in spite of the optimism of the ministry of agriculture, which promises the necessary imports during the coming winter, it is doubtful whether this can be done in Germany's present crippled financial condition. Germany consumed, in the year before the war, 630,000 tons of phosphoric acid fertilizer; only 147,000 tons were available for the 1919-20 crop year. The difference between the two figures indicates strikingly the difficulties of the problem.

Fertilizer Scarce and Dear.

Consumption of fertilizer diminished last season, because of the short supply but by the almost prohibitive high prices. The supply which in peace cost $70,000,000 marks would now cost $2,500,000,000 marks. Farmers are reluctant to apply the necessary quantities, particularly since the cash return from the crops is held down by officially fixed prices for their grain and several other staples. The ministry promises that all steps will be taken to stabilize fertilizer prices and prevent a further increase. A reduction, however, seems out of the question, while the cost of coal and auxiliary products and the level of wages remains so high and it is feared that many small farmers will again be unable to afford the purchase of sufficient fertilizer and the yield again affected seriously.

Many schemes have been suggested to relieve the difficulty, the most radical being a socialist proposal that the government furnish the necessary fertilizer and take its pay in a percentage of the increased yield. This proposal, avowedly a step toward socialization, has been rejected by the government. Even were it not fought by the anti-socialist parties, the government with all its other financial obligations can scarcely undertake to provide the millions to finance the transaction from the time the fertilizer is applied in the spring until the crops are sold in the fall and bear the risk of crop failures.

WHAT DO YOUR HANDS REVEAL? ARE YOU DESTINED FOR FAME, FORTUNE OR POVERTY?

Center—Hands of Sophie Kerr, the famous woman writer.

Upper Right—Hand of Carl Laemmle, pioneer motion picture producer, president of Universal Film Mfg. Co.

Did you know that the innermost secrets of your heart, personal traits, and the story of your life, are revealed or betrayed by every move of your hands?

Dr. Alon Bement, head of the Maryland Institute of Fine Arts, noted authority on reading a person's character by the general position and movement of the hands, says that hands are classified as either constructive, executive or philosophical.

The constructive hand, possessed by architects, engineers, designers, masters of all the arts and most of the sciences is characterized by a large deeply hallowed hand, long strong thumb and slender fingers of unequal length.

The only difference between the constructive and executive hand is that the fingers are shortened in the executive hand, their lengths equalized and the palm is square and thick.

In the philosophical hand, says Dr. Bement, the fingers are longer than the other two types, and thinner between the joints. The palm is a rock. He has the thumb of a fighter but the evenly balanced well tempered mind are strongly proclaimed.

Dr. Bement says the hands of Sophie Kerr, the famous woman writer, show, besides the literary quality, extreme business sagacity and unlimited energy. The fingers set at different angles, denote versatility. All of which accounts for Miss Kerr's faculty of dashing off short stories, editing a magazine and writing three or four books a year.

The hands of R. H. Cochrane, vice president of the Universal Film Company, denote leadership, says Dr. Bement, as the palm is solid as a rock. He has the thumb of a fighter but the evenly balanced well tempered mind are strongly proclaimed.

Dr. Bement says the hands of Carl Laemmle, the pioneer of the motion picture industry, president of the Universal Film Manufacturing Company, indicate that he is extremely gentle, cautious, sensitive and the very essence of honesty and a home lover.

ing the next fiscal year through internal taxation.

The view of many members of the committee is that the revision of the tariff law involves many new and unique problems. Most outstanding of these is taking into consideration the payment of the foreign debt amounting to about 10,000,000, according to leading members of the committee. It is stated that unless European countries are able to export their goods to this country that they will be unable to meet even their interest charges in gold.

On January 6, 7 and 8 the Ways and Means Committee will hear proposals for a tariff on chemicals and paints. They will continue hearings on other commodities daily until the session ends. At that time they anticipate being ready to draft the new tariff law so that it may be introduced at the opening of the special session which President-elect Harding is expected to call.

Women in Prison Allowed to Paint As Yuletide Gift

BEDFORD HILLS, N. Y., Dec. 25.—It was a gala day at the Reformatory for Women here today. The inmates were permitted to deck themselves out with face powder and perfume.

From the time of entry to the time of discharge no one in the Bedford institution is permitted the use of cosmetics. But the board of managers this year decided to have college girls donate presents for their less fortunate sisters and the articles in the rank of their quantity followed. Face powder, soap, perfume, handkerchiefs, candy, calendars, pictures, magazines, and books.

WILSON MAY VETO WAR FINANCE BILL

President Wilson's veto of the resolution reviving the War Finance Corporation is expected to go to Congress early next week. It was learned yesterday.

The President has received the resolution and sent it to Secretary of the Treasury Houston for his advice. The Secretary will advise him to veto it and Wilson is expected to follow this advice.

Another measure to aid the farmers, the Fordney emergency tariff bill, also will face a new attack Monday when it comes up in the Senate. Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, has practically served notice that he will demand a quorum of the Senate to be present before he will allow action on the measure to proceed.

Police Drivers Get Xmas Scare—If a Cash Purse

"Wonder what's the big idea?" This question was uppermost in the minds of four police chauffeurs when they were summoned to appear at the evening roll-call on Christmas eve. Being summoned to be present at roll-call is an unusual procedure and naturally the chauffeurs wondered what it was all about.

Lined up before the detectives, the chauffeurs were made to answer questions put to them by Lieut. George Burlingame, as to their records previous to joining the police department. Still the chauffeurs were unable to reason out what it all meant.

Finally, amid much laughter from the members of the detective bureau, the four chauffeurs—Jake Wolf, Irvin Turnbull, G. L. White and Hugh Robney—were presented with a substantial cash purse, collected from the headquarters men.

Death House Inmates See Their First Movies

OSHING, N. Y., Dec. 25.—Twelve condemned murderers today saw the first moving pictures ever exhibited in Sing Sing's death house. Thomas Meighan, the moving picture actor, who recently staged an escape scene at Sing Sing, presented the prison with a miniature moving picture projection machine. The reels had to be run off twice so all twelve men could see them from behind the barred doors of their cells.

The condemned men had a special chicken dinner. The 1,100 prisoners in the main prison also had a chicken feast, with glibet gravy, mashed potatoes, mince pie and coffee.

clause in the treaty of Portsmouth which provided as follows:

"Russia engages to arrange with Japan for granting the Japanese subjects rights of fishery along the coast of the Russian possessions in the Japan, Okhotsk and Bering Seas."

Japan's Fisheries Gain.

In the execution of this article, a fishery convention was entered into between Russia and Japan in 1907, by which Russia conceded to Japanese subjects fishery rights within her territorial waters of Asia, with the exception of rivers and inland waters. The convention authorized Japanese subjects to take and prepare fish and other aquatic products in specially designated fishing lots, which would be leased to them and Russian subjects alike at public auction; and stipulated that public Japanese and Russian subjects without any distinction in matters relating to the fishery industry in general.

Japan has in this manner obtained extensive rights and interests in the Asiatic coast of Russia through this treaty and subsequent agreements.

The economic interest which Japan now has is shown by her census figures. In 1919 she had 251 "fishing lots" along the coast of Russia, and in 1920 these had increased to 309. The products of these fisheries in 1919 exceeded 2,000,000 yen (approximately $14,000,000) in value, and more than 16,000 men were employed by them during that season.

ROCKVILLE.

ROCKVILLE, Md., Dec. 25.—The singing of carols on the streets and midnight services in the Episcopal and Catholic churches ushered in Christmas in Rockville. The singers, about a dozen in number motored about town and from 9 o'clock until past midnight made the town merry. Rev. P. Rowland Wagner, pastor of the Baptist Church, was in charge.

Among the couples married in Rockville within the last day or two were Miss Irene C. Downs and Colin C. Bickford both of Washington, and Miss Anne Shelton of Washington, and George William Mills of Camp Springs, Va.

A large number of guests from various parts of this county, Washington and other places attended the annual Christmas dance of the young people of Rockville this evening in the Montgomery Country Club. The committee of arrangements consisted of Miss Rose Dawson, Mrs. Clyde M. Stout, George Fetter and Robert Peter, Jr.

Miss Ernestine Stalnaker, a member of the faculty of the high school at Sandy Spring, this county, is in a serious condition in the hospital as a result of an automobile accident near T. B. Prince Georges County, a few days ago. A machine in which she and several friends were riding upset when the driver made too short a turn in an effort to avoid running into a culvert. Miss Stalnaker was pinned beneath the auto.

Ancient Loving Cup Shown at Wedding

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Dec. 25.—A holiday wedding of much interest to the university colony occurred yesterday when Mrs. Mary Avis Moore, a graduate nurse at the University of Virginia Hospital, became the bride of Cuthbert Tunstall, of Norfolk, a fourth-year student in the medical school.
